GENFIT Announces Publication of Extra-Financial Performance Report 2022

Lille (France); Cambridge, (Massachusetts, United States); Zurich (Switzerland); April 27, 2023- GENFIT (Nasdaq and Euronext: GNFT), a late-stage biopharmaceutical company dedicated to improving the lives of patients with rare and severe liver diseases, today announced the publication of its Extra-Financial Performance Report 2022.

GENFIT's Extra-Financial Performance Report in its second edition

Since 2022, GENFIT has been publishing a detailed annual report in response to the increasing interest from institutional investors, individual investors, financial and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) analysts, current employees and potential candidates, GENFIT's strategic and industrial partners and public institutions. The Company is also preparing for the application of new legal requirements in both Europe and the US rendering the disclosure of non-financial reporting mandatory.¹ The 2022 report is available on the Company website.

GENFIT's commitment to CSR

Our commitment is driven, above all, from our determination to act as a socially responsible company.

As a biopharmaceutical company, this commitment goes beyond our core activity whose purpose it is to respond to the societal need of developing innovative, effective and safe therapeutic solutions for patients suffering from rare and severe liver diseases with a high unmet medical need. This is aligned with the third Sustainable Development Goal of the United Nations.

GENFIT believes that there is a correlation between its long-term financial performance and its extra-financial performance in that the societal impact of its research and development programs, as well as the social impact of its activity, its rigorous governance practices (particularly in relation to the demands of the relevant health authorities and financial market regulators) and its low environmental footprint can create meaningful long-term value for patients, healthcare systems, employees and shareholders.

Pascal Prigent, Chief Executive Officer of GENFIT, commented: “GENFIT has always been sensitive to CSR matters. It makes good ethical sense. Set up in 2021 within the Board of Directors, the ESG Committee ensures that an annual CSR roadmap defines a progress trajectory centered around clear initiatives: implementation of policies, actions and performance indicators in relation to material issues. Since 2021, Jean-Christophe Marcoux, Chief Corporate Affairs Officer and member of the Executive Committee has been overseeing GENFIT’s CSR program.”

An overview of GENFIT’s CSR in 2022 and prospects for 2023

GENFIT’s CSR actions in 2021, its extra-financial performance progression and its transparent communication in 2022 were acknowledged by two independent rating agencies. A bronze medal was awarded by Ethifinance (Gaïa report) and a “Prime” status label was granted by ISS. In addition, a social impact investment fund categorized under Article 9 of the European Sustainable Financial Disclosure Regulation (which obtained the “Relance” label in France and is a candidate for the “ISR” label) became shareholder of the company in 2022.

Ever since the Company was created, GENFIT has maintained regular dialogue with its key internal and external stakeholders. Such dialogue will be pursued in 2023, through a formal materiality assessment. Beyond 2023, such dialogue will enable the Company to regularly reassess its objectives and progress.

ABOUT GENFIT

GENFIT is a late-stage biopharmaceutical company dedicated to improving the lives of patients with liver diseases characterized by high unmet medical needs. GENFIT is a pioneer in liver disease research and development with a rich history and strong scientific heritage spanning more than two decades. Beyond therapeutics, GENFIT’s pipeline also includes a diagnostic franchise focused on NASH and ACLF.
